Sustainable choice

45% of an orange is juice,
When it comes to our oranges,
the other 55% (peel, pulp, oils)
is used in other industries.

Zengo Supreme dispenser system

The Supreme bag-in-box dispensers guarantee an easy handling and the high level of hygiene allows a placing at each site, therefore the bag-in-box dispensers are also ideally suited for self-service areas as well as communal and social catering. Through a powerful cooling the product is being kept at a constant temperature. Next to that, the dispenser has large advertising spaces on the front and back to present the products and/or your corporate identity.
